

Advanced Air Approvals

Empower your users to review and approve requests anytime and anywhere; our Air Approvals mobile application supports your approvals processes on any device.

The challenge

The manual procedure of approvals is a major challenge facing most organisations. With many approvers having busy roles, involving a substantial amount of time away from the office, there is a growing requirement for self-service access in order to reduce the effort involved.

Prompt approvals are critical in the procure-to-pay process. The approval of requisitions, to ensure that your staff have the goods and services as and when they need them, and prompt invoice approval, to ensure payment is made within agreed terms, are both crucial steps to maintaining effective working relationships with suppliers. However, payments cannot be made until requisitions, purchase orders and invoice payments have all been approved; this undoubtedly places even greater demands on the time, effort and resources of finance teams.

Similarly, transactions and requests such as customer requests, debtor invoices and job code requests can also create bottlenecks in many departments and organisations. Organisations are now looking for ways in which more can be done with a reduced budget, improve efficiencies to help save money and meet the needs of an increasingly mobile workforce.

The solution

Currently working alongside e5, eProcurement and Finance Process Manager (FPM), Advanced Air Approvals provides users with remote access to review, approve or reject any transaction or record request in line with your own company's policy.

The easy to use, dedicated mobile application extends your approval process to managers and casual users, even when they're away from their desks and the company network.

The benefits

Supporting your mobile workforce

Providing you with instant access anytime and anywhere, our mobile solution is available on iOS, Android and Windows mobile devices. Remote users can log in to approve, review or reject requests wherever they are.

Increase productivity

Realise significant time, effort and resource savings by providing remote users with access to self-service functions. The intuitive interface requires little training and offers simple navigation with minimal user input, allowing for prompt and accurate approvals.

Advanced Air Approvals

Increase business flexibility

Tackle business critical processes whilst away from the office, improving your company's flexible working. Within eProcurement approvals, users can remotely review, approve or reject purchase requisitions and provision requests.

Within FPM approvals, users can remotely review, approve or reject Accounts payable invoices, debtor invoice requests, customer and supplier requests, new chart of account code requests and more.

Benefit from greater efficiencies

Our app supports you in reducing your operational costs and improving process efficiency. Your approvers can review, approve and reject when away from the office. Improve the speed and manner in which your processes are approved.
