

This chambers see Oyez Document Production as a part of their team

Documents are high quality, and always delivered on time

Going before the Supreme Court is not something that most solicitors do regularly. When they work with us they rely on our expertise to guide them through the process and to help ensure they meet all required standards.

We've learned from years of experience that using a knowledgeable, trusted supplier for appeals documentation is critical. That's why we've been a client of Oyez Document Production (ODP) for more than 12 years.

We have had instances where solicitors have chosen another document supplier in an effort to reduce their costs. Inevitably, they've not been satisfied with the results. We are aware that there might be cheaper options available, but we feel strongly that appeals documentation is not a process that should be subject to cost savings.

If something is not correct it can be very embarrassing, and disruptive to proceedings. There have been instances where documents that were matched incorrectly have actually been thrown out of court.

Needless to say, we seek to avoid that at all costs.

Now that the Supreme Court requires documents in both paper and electronic format, using a trusted supplier has become even more critical as both versions must match. We know that ODP will do this for us.

Our internal Legal Information Team do the research and produce the required original documents. We securely transfer everything to ODP and they just take it from there.

We know we do not have to worry about the results when our documents are in their safe hands. They always work to our time scales and have managed to meet ridiculously short deadlines in the past.

We genuinely view Yvonne Archer (Operations Director, ODP) as a working partner and an integral part of our team. ODP is a huge asset because the quality of the documents this team produces for us is very, very high.
