

Carenotes Mobile

Mobile electronic patient care

Our leading Carenotes solution enables you to manage, record and analyse care across various settings, including mental health, community health and child health. With Carenotes Mobile, staff can view and record patient information at the point of care, whether they are in or out of mobile coverage.

Specialist functionality

Our solution works with your service. We work in partnership with our in-house team of practising clinicians to develop specialist functionality for mental health, CAMHS, substance misuse, community, and child health services. In addition to the built-in forms within our solution, new assessments can be configured to meet the specific requirements of your service and your patients.

Online and offline working

Your clinical teams can view and record key patient information at the point of care – including alerts, care plans, assessments and appointment details – even if they have no mobile coverage. This information automatically synchronises with the patient's core Carenotes record once signal has been re-established – enabling patient visits to be monitored and managed from a distance.

A quick, easy and intuitive solution

We have developed our solution with you in mind – the easy-to-use interface enables your clinical staff to update patient information on the move, meaning they can spend more time with patients. Our solution also allows you to schedule visits effectively according to patient need, staff capacity and staff capability. Your staff will then automatically receive their allocated visits straight to their device, meaning they have comprehensive patient details ahead of each visit and at the point of care.

Save time and expense by reducing staff travel

Our solution allows patient information to be updated and recorded at the point of care. This ensures your staff and patients benefit from more accurate and up-to-date information, and greatly reduces the amount of time your staff spends travelling to update records. Our mobile solution also allows your staff to log their journey status, enabling you to monitor and manage visits from a distance.

Our partnerships

Combat Stress, the UK's leading mental health charity for veterans, is improving its delivery of services with the introduction of Carenotes, a hosted patient management solution from Advanced. Richard Burley, Chief Information Officer at Combat Stress, explains.

Burley says, "The mobile functionality will also ensure our Community Teams can devote more time to supporting veterans. As patient information can be accessed and updated, even in a semi-connected capacity, and automatically synchronised to Carenotes when a signal becomes available we will substantially reduce inefficient administration."
