ProSolution

How we can help you:

- Save time
  Reduce staff workload and paper-based processes by providing staff with the key information they need.

- Maintain compliance
  Simplified ILR production ensures you can submit on time to the ESFA to receive your funding.

- Keep data up to date
  Integrated change requests allow users to request changes to data. Automated workflow authorisation means no more lost paper.

- Integrated course marketing
  Keep your prospective learners interested with targeted marketing sharing suitable information.

- Simplified timetabling
  Fully integrated timetables and registers mean no need to export and import from other systems.

- Easy exam management
  Simplify the complexity of managing exams with easy EDI submission and transfer.

Effectively manage prospective learners and their data through the entire enquiry and application processes. ProSolution can also automatically import applicant details from UCAS.

Both standard and user-defined reports are seamlessly integrated into ProSolution and can be accessed easily from a web browser, or the Windows application.

David Grant > Director of Information Services & Systems > Bath College

"We needed a solution that would support all departments across the College to contribute to this central database, and that could be implemented in a tight timescale from merger to the new academic year. ProSolution was the most responsive to our needs, the best value for money and there was a can-do approach to meeting the deadline. It was a big challenge, but we had confidence in Advanced and we started the new year with a new MIS that smoothly completed 2,000 enrolments in two weeks."
ProObserve

Jo Haine > Information Systems Manager > Solihull College & University Centre

"Attendance data and Individual Learning Plans (ILPs) are automatically updated which have provided considerable time savings. The solutions’ advanced reporting capabilities also allow staff to run queries on individual students or whole courses in real-time to speed up action plans as a result of a classroom observation"
ProPortal

ProPortal makes viewing and sharing student information secure, efficient and flexible. Our multi-role solution is ideal for further education colleges, training providers, adult learning and local authorities to share key information with students, parents and employers.

How we can help you:

Improve learner engagement
With their own information at their fingertips, encourage independence and fully engage your learners in their learning journey.

Easy Navigation
The simple-to-use layout provides easy navigation for all users.

Safe and secure
Any number of permission groups can be set up within ProPortal to keep learner data safe and secure.

Accessible on all devices
The mobile-responsive application means users can log in from any device including laptops, mobiles and tablets.

Improved communication
Keep your students in the know and easily share timetables, attendance entries and exam results via the portal.

ProPortal is designed to support a variety of users; from parents, employers and head teachers at associated schools to the students themselves. Users can view student information and edit as appropriate, based on their requirements and permissions. The system uses permission groups to customise the individual experience to each user, taking the group they belong to and dictating the pages of information available.

Rob Bishop > Head of Strategic MIS > City of British College

“Giving students information about their performance will increase their accountability and help our staff to engage with them.”
