

CUSTOMER AND SUPPLIER PRIVACY NOTICE

This privacy notice provides information about how OneAdvanced (“we,” “us,” or “our” for short) processes and protects personal information we obtain about our suppliers, and customers where we are the Controller.

Please note: for the majority of the services and data processing we carry out for our customers, OneAdvanced are a data processor and in such instances this privacy notice is therefore not applicable.

Introduction

This privacy notice explains how Advanced Computer Software Group Limited (OneAdvanced), and its subsidiaries collect, use, maintain and retain personal data when providing products and services to our customers and suppliers.

Our Data Protection Office (DPO) provides help and guidance to assist us in meeting our obligations and to ensure we protect the data we hold about you. We take privacy seriously and take appropriate steps to protect the personal data we collect from you and to make sure that your personal information is kept secure and only used in line with this notice.

What personal information do we collect about you and for what purpose?

Marketing

We collect your business email address, full name, company name, and your business contact number when you are our customer for the purposes of marketing our products and services to you.

We also send relevant business communications and support-related information to keep you informed about our services and business updates and certain products and services provided by our selected partners.

We rely on legitimate interests as our lawful basis for this processing.

Support Services

If you provide us with feedback, technical support requests, or other communications about our products and services, we may use this information for the purposes of research, analytics, and product / third party tool development. Wherever possible, we will aggregate and anonymise this information so that it no longer identifies you.

We rely on ‘Performance of Contract’ as our lawful basis for this processing.

Research and Development to Improve our Services.

OneAdvanced processes your personal data for the purposes of carrying out research to improve our products and services, to ensure we are meeting users' needs, and to provide a good user experience.

We use several methods to carry out our research. Where we carry out interview-based research and carry out any audio or video recordings of the research session, we will require your consent to participate. The personal data that we collect will depend on what you consent to but may include your name, contact details such as your email address, and phone number as well as your image, voice, and the opinions you express during the research activity.

We rely on 'Legitimate Interests' as our lawful basis for this processing.

Where we audio or video record your interviews for research purposes we will rely on consent as our lawful basis.

Webchat and Contact Us Form

We use a provider called "Qualified" for our webchat services. We will collect and use your Personal Data to provide you with information and advice about products or services that you may have requested using the Contact Us Form on our website or webchat.

We rely on 'Performance of Contract' as our lawful basis for this processing and will retain the personal data for the duration of our relationship with you.

Suppliers

Where your company is supplying us with goods and services and we are the customer, we will collect your business contact information to enable us to contact you: this may include your full name, job role, work address, email address and contact number.

We rely on 'Performance of Contract' as our lawful basis for this processing.

Communication

Where we have entered into a contract with you to provide you with products and services, we will be required to communicate with you in order to fulfil our contract. Our accounts team will also be required to process invoices of any payments that are due. We will not be able to fulfil our contract with you without certain personal information. This may include your business contact details such as your name, job title, email address, phone number.

We rely on 'Performance of Contract' as our lawful basis for this processing.

OneAdvanced AI

Customers decide what, if any, personal data they choose to enter into OneAdvanced AI when using the service, and they remain Controller for such data.

When you create an account to use OneAdvanced AI, we collect the following Personal Data:

Information about your account:

When you create an account with us, we will collect information associated with your account, including your name, contact information, and account credentials (collectively, “Account Information”).

Content relating to Users:

We collect Personal Data that you provide in your input to OneADvanced AI (“Content”), including prompts and other content you upload, such as files, depending on how you use OneAdvanced AI. However, we do not use or access this for any other purpose than to provide the service to you.

Technical Information which also constitutes Personal Data:

When you visit, use, or interact with OneAdvanced AI, we receive the following information about your visit, use, or interactions (“Technical Information”):

Log Data:

We collect information sent automatically by your browser or device when you use OneAdvanced AI. Log data includes your Internet Protocol (IP) address, browser type, browser name, and settings, the date and time of your request, and how you interact with OneAdvanced AI.

Usage Data:

We collect information about how you use OneAdvanced AI, such as the types of content that you view or engage with, the features you use and the actions you take, as well as your time zone, country, the dates and times of access, user agent and version, type of computer or mobile device, and your computer connection.

Device Information:

We collect information about the device you use to access OneAdvanced AI, such as the name of the device and associated identifiers and operating system. Information collected may depend on the type of device you use and its settings.

Location Information:

For security, and to enhance your experience, we may determine the general location from which your device accesses OneAdvanced AI based on information like its IP address, for example to protect your account by detecting unusual login activity or to provide more accurate responses.

OneAdvanced AI is hosted in the UK, and every customer environment is private and secure to that customer.

Should you purchase OneAdvanced AI independently or alongside any of our products, you may wish to read our OneAdvanced AI Explainability Statement

Information We Collect from Third Parties.

We collect information about you from third party partners where you have shown an interest in our products and services. The types of information we collect may include your full name, the company you work for and your business email address.

Social Media, Marketing Agencies and Business Partners

We use social networking sites such as LinkedIn, Sales Navigator, Twitter, among others.

We do not control how your personal information is collected, stored, or used by such third-party sites. You should review the privacy policies and settings on any social networking site that you subscribe to so that you understand the information they may be sharing about you. If you do not want your networking sites to share information about you, you should contact that site and determine whether it gives you the opportunity to opt-out of sharing such information. OneAdvanced is not responsible for how these third-party sites may use information collected from you, or about you, with us.

Who We May Share Your Personal Information With

We may pass your information on to our agents and service providers for the purposes set out in this privacy notice as set out below:

- Marketing agencies specialising in social media - so that we may connect with your social networks. We may provide access to our websites to marketing agencies such as Nomensa and to business partners so that we may generate interest in our products and services among members of your social networks and to allow you to share product and service interests with friends in your network.
- Agents acting on our behalf – to carry out search engine optimisation, modelling, analysis, market and customer research, statistical analysis to help improve our website and the way we provide the services that we make available to you. These agents include creative agencies, professional user experience testing agencies, and search engine optimisation agents. We do not provide personal information to these agents.
